

What's so Bad About the FDA's Aduhelm Approval IN PLAIN ENGLISH: A Salon

If you want a better understanding of why SO MANY members of the FDA's OWN Advisory Committee and Alzheimer's experts across the country are OUTRAGED by the FDA's approval of Aduhelm for early Alzheimer's,

THIS SALON IS FOR YOU! 4 Choices!

Thursday, Jan. 13: 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. EST
Friday, Jan. 14: 12:00 pm to 1:30 pm EST
Tuesday, Jan. 18: 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm EST
Tuesday, Jan. 18: 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm PT
Via Zoom (link sent upon sign-up)

Sign up Here:

<https://forms.gle/TH4q6XrhdgvNHcSv6>

Facilitated by Sharon Moon, JD, MPopH & TBA

Part One: Background - Setting the Stage

Part Two: What is so Bad About Approval

Part Three: What Can We do About it?

R I G H T C A R E

www.RightCareAlliance.org
organize@rightcarealliance.org

During Part One, we'll translate the jargon experts use to criticize the FDA's scientific justification for its approval into PLAIN ENGLISH. (And talk about the steps in the FDA process for approving new drugs..)

BONUS

We hope you leave this discussion with a greater ability to critically evaluate any drug study yourself.

Eating while Zooming Encouraged:
We can talk while breaking bread –
albeit virtually.

